

500,000+

teens like using prescription drugs to get high.

And most start by trying yours.

In a recent study,* 20% of teens said they had taken a prescription drug in the past year to get high. Three quarters said they stole it from home. This can be dangerous and possibly deadly. For the tools you need to prevent this and to learn how to talk to your kids about prescription abuse, go to CanadaDrugFree.org.
